A TASTE OF PLACE

Sweet Grass Dairy

If you were asked what comes to mind when thinking about foods Georgia is known for, more than likely it would be a resounding, "peaches!". Dairy foods aren't necessarily the first thing that come to mind. But Georgia has a unique climate that keeps pastures an emerald shade of green all year long, perfect for ensuring happy cows with a 100% grass-fed diet. Al and Desiree Wehner at Sweet Grass Dairy have made an art out of capturing this climate and showcasing it in their cheeses. Celebrate this terroir with them by dusting a wheel of Green Hill with sugar, torch the top and pair with some sweet peaches for summer. Crumble Asher Blue on top of a pecan pie for a savory twist this fall or even throw their Pimento Cheese in your next batch of mac and cheese to spice things up this winter!

GUSTO E TRADIZIONE

Mortadella Around the World

Traditionally, this deli diva's bright pink surface is speckled with a seven to three ratio of pork to flavorful bits of fat called 'lardelli.' In Italy, Mortadella usually contains pistachios and has more than likely been rolled up into your tortellini and dusted with Pecorino Romano. The Polish have been known to dip it in batter, fry it up, and serve it alongside potatoes and salads. In Spain and Portugal, a variety with green olives and spicy peppers is widely consumed, while Romanians prefer their version without the fat and olives. Any way you slice it, there is no denying that this historic cold cut is loved worldwide!

MISE EN PLACE

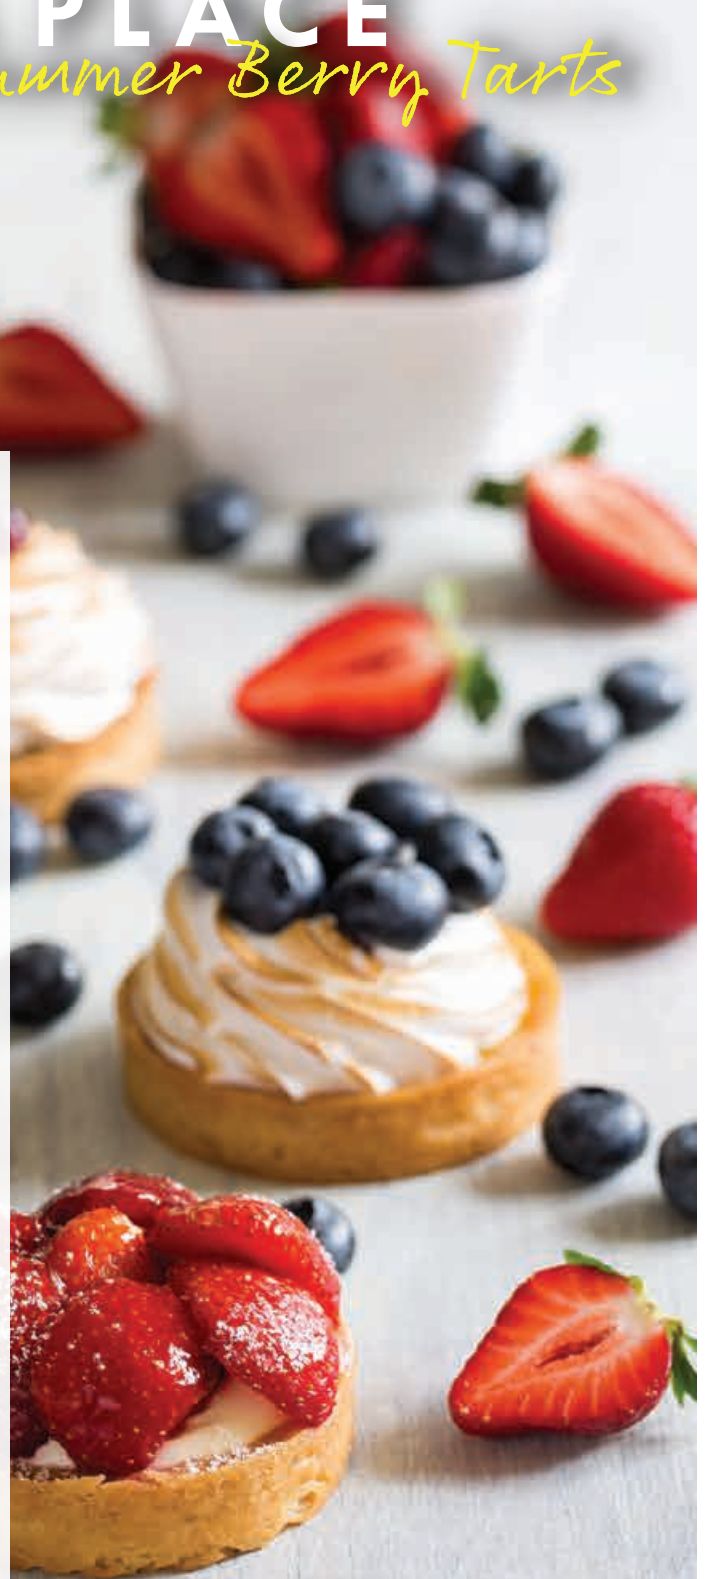

Pacific Northwest Summer Berry Tarts

Washington and Oregon are known for producing some of the most exquisite berries, perfect for pastry applications like fresh fruit tarts. With their vibrant colors and mouthwatering flavors, they practically sell themselves. However, to create a memorable tart you need an equally excellent tart shell and filling. The perfect shell has a crunch and subtle sweetness that complements summer berries. Look no further for everything you need to make delicious summer fruit tarts!

Start with cold process pastry cream mix from Pastry 1. This one-step mix can be made with a variety of cold liquids, ounce for ounce, including milk, cream, or fruit puree! (Raspberry pastry cream anyone? Yum!) Pipe into a pre-baked, all-butter shell in the shape and size of your choice: one-bite petit four, plated dessert, or 8" family-style. Top with your assortment of Pacific Northwest summer berries. My favorite combination is sliced strawberries, chiffonade of mint, and a little Grand Marnier.

Check out our Chocolate and Pastry Catalog on the Peterson website for a full list of in-stock pastry shells with photos and sizes.
